Resources for All Levels

► Coming in the fall of 2011:

ESR is producing a 4-part Advisory Multimedia Series including video, lesson plans, and professional development resources to support high school advisory. The videos were filmed in a variety of schools with advisors modeling activities with students. The series will focus on four core practices for high school advisory: building community and culture within the group; providing academic advisement for each individual student; focusing on future plans with postsecondary exploration, planning and preparation; and social and emotional learning/healthy youth development for individual students and the group.

Email us at orders@esrnational.org be the first to know when the Advisory Multimedia Series is available.

The authors' knowledge and techniques provide the skills needed to resolve conflicts successfully.

(PEACEI) 220 pages/Hunter House/Price: $14.95

► The War Play Dilemma, 2nd Edition

By Diane E. Levin and Nancy Carlsson-Paige

As violence in the media and media-linked toys increases, there has been an increase in children's war play. This revised text provides more practical guidance for the promotion of creative play and lessons about violence. Potential strategies for resolving the war play dilemma are prohibition, the laissez-faire approach, allowing limited war play, and facilitating war play.

(WARPLA) 144 pages/Teachers College Press/Price: $17.95

► Waging Peace in Our Schools

By Linda Lantieri and Janet Patti

From the largest and most successful school initiatives in social and emotional learning, the Resolving Conflict Creatively Program, comes a powerful, practical guide for teaching children to empathize, mediate, and negotiate. The book addresses recess conflicts to violent outbursts and offers strategies to enhance children's emotional, social, and conflict resolution skills.
